As a local councillor you would be one of over 80,000 local councillors in England. Local councillors are volunteers and are held accountable by local people for things that happen locally. You would make a difference by influencing decisions that affect your community.

Bingley Town Council is an ambitious and active council and has had a considerable positive impact in Bingley. Examples of the work of Bingley Town Council include the re-provision of public toilets (including a Changing Place toilet), repainting street furniture, providing floral displays throughout the parish, organising litter picks and awarding grants to local community organisations, all in response to residents' feedback.

As a councillor you would have a responsibility to attend and contribute at meetings and to represent the people who live in the Lady Lane and Oakwood ward. You would not be required to live in the wards. Eligibility criteria, and possible reasons a person would be disqualified from being a town councillor, are explained in the appendix to the procedures for co-option document. Please read these carefully.

- a biography,
- reasons why you wish to become a town councillor, and
